

Appendices

In this section, the writer performs the results of the data analysis and the transcript of the recorded utterance in Listening test.

Appendix I. Tables of the Results of Data Analysis

As stated in Chapter 3, there are two data in this study; data 1 and data 2. This section shows the results of data 1 analysis.

Appendix I. 1 Tables Analysis of the Students' Answer Sheets

From the students' answer sheets, here are the results of giving scores to the students and grading them based on their scores.

Part B

B. 1. A conversation between 2 friends who meet on a street. (Questions for Numbers 31 – 33)

W: David, can I give you a hand with one of the grocery bag?

M: Sure Nancy. Could you take this one please? I didn't realize how heavy this bag would be?

W: Why did you buy so much stuff when you have to walk home from the store?

M: Well, I didn't intent to buy a lot. But I'm having some people offer and I guess I need it more than I expected.

W: What vacation?

M: The people I lived with, the Chramers have been on vacation for a month. And I thought I surprised them and I'm inviting some of their friends and families for welcome home dinner

W: That's really thoughtful of you!

M: I think that is at least I can do for them. They have been letting me to stay for the rent free while I'm in school.

W: Really! That's a pretty generous of them.

M: Well, they understand how difficult it is to make money when you are students. They have been such a big help to me. I thought this might be a small way to thank of their generosity.

31.	What is David trying to do?	√

33.	Why is David appreciated about the Chramers?								√

B. 2. A conversation between 2 friends. (Questions for Numbers 34 – 37)

M: Hey. How was your trip?

W: Wonderful! I spent most of my time at the art museum. I especially liked the new wing. I was amazed to hear the guide explained all of the problem they had building it.

M: Right, I've just read an article that went on and on about the cost "90 million total" I think.

W: Yeah the guide mentioned that. You could see that they spare no expense.

M: Hmm. It looked really unusual at least from what I saw in a picture.

W: It is. The basic design is 2 triangles. In fact, there is a triangle all over. The paving stone in the courtyard, the sky light and even a lot of the sculptures. One sculpture is a move. It is in the courtyard and it made of a piece of aluminum that moves slowly in the air. It's really impressive.

M: That was in the article too. It said the original was stolen and waved so much that it wasn't saved the hand.

W: Right, then they did over in aluminum so it wouldn't come crashing down on someone's head.

M: You know, the article went into that in a detail. There is even an interview with the sculpture.

W: I want to read that. Would you mind if I borrow the magazine sometimes?

M: No, I won't mind. If I hadn't thrown that yet.

C. 2. A talk in an anthropology class. (Questions for Numbers 42 – 46)

Today's lecture will settle on prehistoric people of Nevada desert. Now, most of these prehistoric desert people moved across the country side throughout the year. You might think that they were neither wondering angusly nor part drama. They actually followed the serious of carefully plant moved. Where they moved depended on food was available. Places where plants were whitening or fish were sponic. Now, often when these people moved they carried out off their possession in a bag. But, the journey was long, extra foods and tools were sometimes stored in a cave or beneath rocks. One of these caves is now an exciting archeological site. Beyond this small opening is a huge to grow even though the cave was very large it was certainly too dark and dusty for the travelers to live in but it was a great place to hide things and for archeologist. The food supply and artifact were found there. The food includes dried fish, seeds, and nuts. The artifact includes stone spare point and knives. The spare points were actually rather small. Here is the picture of some that were found. You can see the size in relation with hands of holding them.

C. 3. A lecture in Marine Biological class. (Questions for Number 47 – 50)

To what the environment which fish wealth often seems cold, dark and mysterious? But, they are advantageous in living in water and they play an important role of making the fish what they are. One that is water is a subject to set temperature changes. Therefore to make an excellent habitat for cold blooded animal. Another advantage is the water ability to easily support the body weight. Protoplasm has approximately the same density with the water so a fish and the water are almost weightless. This weightlessness in term means two things. One, a fish can get along with simple bone structure and two limitation to a fish's size are practically removed. Yet, there is a basic difficult to live in the water. The fact that it is incompressible for a fish to move through water. It must actually sharpen at side. Most can do this by wiggling back and font and snake like motion. The fish pushes the water a side by forward motion of the head and with the curved body and the flexible tail. Next, the water flows back along the fish narrowing side closing in the tail and helping the fish preparing for the forward. The fact that water is incompressible has literally shape the development of fish of flat or angular shape can be moved in the water with difficulty. And for this reason fish have a basic shape that is beautifully adapted to deal with this particularity.

47.	What is the talk mainly about?							√
48.	What does the speaker mention as a problem of water present to fish?				√
49.	The speaker compared the fish's movement with that of what creature?								√
50.	What aspect of the fish does the speaker discuss in the most detail?								√

B. 2 Transcription of the Dialogue in the Listening Test

The following are the dialogues that the students heard when they did the English Proficiency test held by the EESP of WMSCU on 12 August 2006:

Part A

- W : Do you want to go on a trip with the flower on the spring.
It will cost about 300 dollars a person.
M : “300 dollars!” Do you think I just inherit of a fortune?
N : What can be inferred about the man?
- W : My watch stopped again and I’ve just got a new battery.
M : Why don’t you take it to Smith’s jewelry?
They can check it for you and they are pretty reasonable.
N : What does the man mean?
- W : We’re going to change our meeting from Monday to Tuesday
M : It’s all the same to me.
N : What does the man mean?

4. M : We plan to go to the beach after the class. Wanna come?
W : I'd love to but Prof. Jones want to speak with me.
N : What will the woman do?
5. W : Janet sounded to worry about her grade.
M : But she's getting age and bees, isn't she?
N : What does the man imply about Janet?
6. W : You look great since you've taken the exercise classes.
M : Thanks, but I never felt better in my life.
N : What does the man imply?
7. M : I have a hard time of getting through this novel.
W : I know how you feel. Who could remember the names of 35 different characters?
N : What does the woman imply?
8. M : That's a long line. Do you think there will be any tickets left?
W : I doubt it. Guess, why don't we go to the next 2nd show?
N : What does the woman mean?
9. W : This course is much too hard for me.
M : Sorry, you've decided to take it huh!!
N : What does the man ask to the woman?
10. M : Are you going home for winter vacation?
W : I agreed to stay on her as a researcher's assistant.
N : What can be inferred about the woman?
11. M : Hello.
W : Hello. This is Dr. Gray's office. We're calling to remind you of your 4.15 appointment for annual check up tomorrow.
M : Oh, thanks. It's a good thing you call. I thought it was 4.15 today.
N : What does the man mean?
12. W : How wonderful, you won the scholarship! Can't you believe it?
M : No, it's almost to be good to be true.
N : What does the man mean?

13. W : Excuse me Prof. Davidson, but I was hoping to talk to you about my class project for economic.
- M : I have a class in a few minutes. Why don't you come to see me during the office hour tomorrow?
- N : When will the woman discuss her project with Prof. Davidson?
14. M : How were you feeling?
- W : The stuff the nurse gave me seems to health but it's making me offly drouzy.
- N : What does the woman mean?
15. M : Bill Smith is volunteer to write a summary of the proposal we have agreed on
- W : Will I have a chance to review it?
- N : What does the woman want to know?
16. W : Why don't you wear that yellow shirt that your sister gave you for your birthday?
- M : I love that shirt but it was missing two buttons.
- N : What does the man mean?
17. W : How many classes do you have today?
- M : Just one from 3 till 6.
- N : What does the man mean?
18. W : Our football team didn't play very well.
- M : That's true. But at least we won a game.
- N : What does the man mean?
19. W : This is a bit unusually cool summer.
- M : I actually had to get out my wool sweater in August.
- N : What does the woman imply?
20. M : I got some bad news today. The store where I work is laying off step.
- W : Are they going to let you go?
- N : What does the woman want to know?
21. M : I'd like to pick this film out by 4 tomorrow afternoon.
- W : I can have it for you in two if you like.
- N : What does the woman say about the film?
22. M : I talked to Phillip today and he said he will be coming to the party.

- W : Ohh! So he can come after all.
- N : What can be inferred about Phillip?
23. M : Gary insists on buying the food for the picnic.
- W : That's pretty generous but shouldn't we at least offer to share the expenses.
- N : What does the woman suggest to do?
24. M : How is the new job going?
- W : Well. I'm getting used to love of a new thing. But I wish the SPV could give me some feed back.
- N : What does the man imply about Linda?
25. W : Did Linda ever finish that introductory chapter?
- M : I'm not sure. She spends hours on rewriting it.
- N : What does the man imply about Linda?
26. W : The supermarket down the street is selling everything half price. Because they are going out of business.
- M : Sounds like an ideal time to stack up on coffee.
- N : What does the man mean?
27. W : Have you heard anything about the new Professor?
- M : Just, that she knows the push offer.
- N : What does the man say about the Professor?
28. M : I need to get the copy of my birth certificate.
- W : Sorry, but we can only have the request by mail today.
- N : What does the woman mean?
29. W : When is the earliest flight from Washington to New York?
- M : There is a settle at six ends up four and there is another at 7.
- N : What does the man mean?
30. M : How do you like to help me plan the refreshment for this astronomic club meeting tomorrow night?
- W : Sure. Let's be careful not to over due it. Last time we had enough 3 clubs put together.
- N : What does the woman mean?

Part B

B. 1. A conversation between 2 friends who meet on a street.

W : David, can I give you a hand with one of the grocery bag?

M : Sure Nancy. Could you take this one please? I didn't realize how heavy this bag would be?

W : Why did you buy so much stuffs when you have to walk home from the store?

M : Well, I didn't intent to buy a lot. But I'm having some people offer and I guess I need it more than I expected.

W : What vacation?

M : The people I lived with, the Chramers have been on vacation for a month. And I thought I surprised them and I'm inviting some of their friends and families for welcome home dinner.

W : That's really thoughtful of you!

M : I think that is at least I can do for them. They have been letting me to stay for the rent free while I'm in school.

W : Really! That's a pretty generous of them.

M : Well, they understand how difficult it is to make money when you are students. They have been such a big help to me. I thought this might be a small way to thank of their generosity.

31. What is David trying to do?

32. Why did David think he wouldn't have problem?

33. Why is David appreciated about the Chramers?

B. 2. A conversation between 2 friends.

M : Hey. How was your trip?

W : Wonderful! I spent most of my time at the art museum. I especially liked the new wing. I was amazed to hear the guide explained all of the problem they had building it.

M : Right, I've just read an article that went on and on about the cost.
"90 million total" I think.

W : Yeah the guide mentioned that. You could see that they spare no expense.

M : Hmm. It looked really unusual at least from what I saw in a picture.

W : It is. The basic design is 2 triangles. In fact, there is a triangle all over. The paving stone in the courtyard, the sky light and even a lot of the sculptures. One sculpture is a moveo. It is in the courtyard and it made of a piece of aluminum that moves slowly in the air. It's really impressive.

M : That was in the article too. It said the original was stolen and waved so much that it wasn't saved the hand.

W : Right, then they did over in aluminum so it wouldn't come crashing down on someone's head.

M : You know, the article went into that in a detail. There is even an interview with the sculpture.

W : I want to read that. Would you mind if I borrow the magazine sometimes?

M : No, I won't mind. If I hadn't thrown that yet.

34. What did the woman think of the new wing in the museum?
35. How had the man learnt about the museum?
36. According to the woman, what do the paving stone; sky light and sculpture have in common?
37. What was the problem with the original moveo?

Today's lecture will settle on prehistoric people of Nevada desert. Now, most of these prehistoric desert people moved across the country side throughout the year. You might think that they were neither wondering angusly nor part drama. They actually followed the serious of carefully plant moved. Where they moved depended on food was available. Places where plants were whitening or fish were sponic. Now, often when these people moved they carried out off their possession in a bag. But, the journey was long, extra foods and tools were sometimes stored in a cave or beneath rocks. One of these caves is now an exciting archeological site. Beyond this small opening is a huge to grow even though the cave was very large it was certainly too dark and dusty for the travelers to live in but it was a great place to hide things and for archeologist. The food supply and artifact were found there. The food includes dried fish, seeds, and nuts. The artifact includes stone spare point and knives. The spare points were actually rather small. Here is the picture of some that were found. You can see the size in relation with hands of holding them.

C. 3. A lecture in Marine Biological class.

To what the environment which fish wealth often seems cold, dark and mysterious? But, they are advantageous in living in water and they play an important role of making the fish what they are. One that is water is a subject to set temperature changes. Therefore to make an excellent habitat for cold blooded animal. Another advantage is the water ability to easily support the body weight. Protoplasm has approximately the same density with the water so a fish and the water are almost weightless. This weightlessness in term means two things. One, a fish can get along with simple bone structure and two limitation to a fish's size are practically removed. Yet, there is a basic difficult to live in the water. The fact that it is incompressible for a fish to move through water. It must actually sharpen at side. Most can do this by wiggling back and front and snake like motion. The fish pushes the water a side by forward motion of the head and with the curved body and the flexible tail. Next, the water flows back along the fish narrowing side closing in the tail and helping the fish preparing for the forward. The fact that water is incompressible has literally shape the development of fish of flat or angular shape can be moved in the water with difficulty. And for this reason fish have a basic shape that is beautifully adapted to deal with this particularity.

47. What is the talk mainly about?

48. What does the speaker mention as a problem of water present to fish?

49. The speaker compared the fish's movement with that of what creature?

50. What aspect of the fish does the speaker discuss in the most detail?
