THE HUMAN ISSUES ON ARTHUR MILLER'S "THE CRUCIBLE"

A THESIS

By

HALIDA MARGONO

NRP. 1213090040

UNIVERSITAS KATOLIK WIDYA MANDALA SURABAYA
FAKULTAS KEGURUAN DAN ILMU PENDIDIKAN
JURUSAN PENDIDIKAN BAHASA DAN SENI
PROGRAM STUDI PENDIDIKAN BAHASA INGGRIS
OKTOBER, 1993
THE HUMAN ISSUES ON ARTHUR MILLER'S "THE CRUCIBLE"

A THESIS

In Partial Fulfilment of the Requirements for the Sarjana Pendidikan Degree in English Language Teaching

By

HALIDA MARGONO
NRP. 1213090040

UNIVERSITAS KATOLIK WIDYA MANDALA SURABAYA
FAKULTAS KEGURUAN DAN ILMU PENDIDIKAN
JURUSAN PENDIDIKAN BAHASA DAN SENI
PROGRAM STUDI PENDIDIKAN BAHASA INGGRIS
OKTOBER, 1995
This thesis entitled
THE HUMAN ISSUES ON ARTHUR MILLER'S THE CRUCIBLE

and prepared and submitted by HALIDA MARGONO has been approved and accepted as partial fulfilment of the requirements for the Sarjana Pendidikan degree in English Language Teaching by the following advisers:

Drs. Stefanus Laga Tukan M.Pd.
First advisor

Drs. B. Budiyono M.Pd.
Second advisor
Acknowledgements

First and foremost, the writer would like to thank God for his grace, blessing and help in accomplishing this thesis.

The writer wishes to thank Drs Stefanus Laga Tukan M.Pd, her first advisor, for his tremendous help, and encouragement which enabled the writer to finish this thesis;

Drs Antonius Gurito who has given thoughtful suggestions and advice. His support is greatly appreciated;

Drs Budiyono M.Pd Who has given his valuable time, comments, corrections, and encouragement. Without his help this thesis would not have appeared in its present form;

Drs V Luluk Prijambodo for his helpful and resourceful references;

All lecturers of English Department of Widya Mandala who have taught the writer during her academic years, all friends and colleagues for their help and encouragement in accomplishing this thesis;

Her loving children, Budi, Fikri, and Shanti, for patiently and tirelessly typing the manuscript on their computer. Their help has been very important for the preparation of the thesis;

And last, but by no means least, the writer also wishes to thank her best friend, The Dyatmiko's, and his driver, Pak No, for their continuing support. Without them, there is no way the writer could have written this thesis.

Again, the writer is grateful to all of those who are mentioned above. May God bless them abundantly.

Surabaya, October 1995,

The Writer.
Table Of Contents

Title of the Thesis ...................................................................................................... i
Approval Sheet (1) .................................................................................................... ii
Approval Sheet (2) ................................................................................................... iii
Acknowledgements .................................................................................................. iv
Table Of Contents .................................................................................................... v
Abstract ................................................................................................................... vii

CHAPTER I INTRODUCTION ................................................................................ 1

1.1. Background Of The Study ................................................................. 1
1.2. Statement of the Problem ................................................................. 6
1.3. Objectives Of The Study ................................................................. 7
1.4. Significance Of The Study ................................................................. 7
1.5. Limitation Of The Study ................................................................. 8
1.6. Definition Of Key Terms ................................................................. 8
1.7. Organization Of The Thesis ............................................................. 11

CHAPTER II REVIEW OF RELATED LITERATURE .............................................. 13

2.1. Review Of Related Theories ............................................................ 13
2.1.1. Literature ............................................................................. 13
2.1.2. Drama .............................................................................. 17
2.2. Review Of Related Critics............................. 37
2.3. Biography of The Author................................ 40

CHAPTER III METHODOLOGY OF THE STUDY ........................................46
3.1. The Nature of The Study.................................. 46
3.2. The Document of the Study............................. 50
3.3. Data Collection............................................ 51
   3.3.1. Form of the Data..................................... 51
   3.3.2. Instruments........................................... 51
   3.3.3. Procedure of Data Collection....................... 52
3.4. Data Analysis............................................. 53
   3.4.1. Distribution of Choices............................. 53
   3.4.2. Classification....................................... 53
3.5. Double-Coding............................................ 54

CHAPTER IV RESULTS OF THE ANALYSIS............................................. 55
4.1. Human Issues............................................. 55
   4.1.1. Witchery............................................. 55
   4.1.2. Resentment.......................................... 58
   4.1.3. Adultery............................................. 60
   4.1.4. Authority........................................... 63
   4.1.5. Anger................................................ 64
   4.1.6. Pity.................................................. 65
4.2. Roles..................................................... 66
4.3. Interpretations........................................... 67
Abstract

Literature is an art which illuminates some aspects of human's life or behaviour. Through this art, the students try to learn ways of life and human issues such as the struggle of life, emotions, feelings and dreams. In addition, by studying literature, the students would explore the best in writing, and, in doing so, learn to think, speak and write more effectively.

Being aware of those above facts, the writer is interested in studying a literary work, that is drama. Drama, one of literary genres, is a peculiar literary form which describes human characters in action. Unlike a novel, drama is not too long. So it does not take much time to read, besides the language is communicative.

Studying human issues and the roles of characters in a literary work is always useful and important since it includes studying the human personalities, their thought, problems, and conflicts. In this thesis the writer studies the human issues and characters' roles in creating those issues in Arthur Miller's The Crucible, a tragic drama which deals with some of the most important human problems in our life.

The interesting thing about this play is that it tells a common man's courageous, and never-ending fight against mass pressure to make him bow down in confirmity. The common man who realizes that he can not gratify his enemies by betraying his principle and at the end chooses to be executed. This study can be considered as an example of human issues study. It is expected that the student will have the ability to understand the contents of a literary work they analyze, and to develop their awareness of human characters with their problems.

In analyzing this play the writer uses Carney’s and Barelson’s Content Analysis. The study of human issues and the roles of characters are done by examining the communication content. This communication content is represented by the characters' speeches about themselves or about other characters and above all the description about the characters given by the author.

From analyzing The Crucible, the writer finds out some important human issues i.e. witchery, resentment, adultery, authority, anger, and pity. John Proctor as a church member besides a farmer, plays important roles as the protagonist. First, he has wrong philosophy of life that is an individual he has to work only for his own individual ends and desires only to live an uninvolved life. This philosophy makes him be accused of being a witch. However, at the end, when he insisted to lie, he has his own principles that is abiding need for men to adhere firmly to their principles in the face of oppression. This principle makes his life free from lies and he dies by his own honesty.

This is the lesson of human life in The Crucible. The relationship of human being in the society and the community problems are crises which concern each and every human being. Knowing those human issues well one must become part of all humanity, must be committed to the complete society of mankind.